THE RESPONSE OF THE LOYAL STATES TO THE CALL

Massachusetts has not yet furnished her quota of men ender the law of Congress, while some of the border ve States, that are so much derided and abused by th abolitionists, have exceeded their queta. Missouri has gaised twenty-three regiments, Kentucky thirty, West ern Virginia ten, Maryland five and Delaware three. Ar to the free States, Indana, with a smaller population than Massachusetts, has reised double her quots. Her representatives say that she will be prompt to meet the THE INTERVENTION OF FOREIGN POWERS.

THE FINAL ADJOURNMENT OF CONGRESS. Mr. Snerman's proposition to adjourn on the 14th of July has been framed, as it is supposed, upon consultation with leading members of the two houses of Congress. By length and breadth of the crisis at Richmond, the preclas position of European nations touching our affairs and the prespects concerning enlistments at the North to meet the requirement for three hundred thousand more men. the information accessary to answer certain resolutions introduced in the House of Representatives, June 9, 1862, en motion of Hon. Br. Wicklibe, of Kentucky, their substance being to inquire:

First.—Whether I had organized or was organizing a regiment of fogitive shaws in this department.

Second.—Whether any authority had been given to me from the War lepartment for such organization; and,

Third.—Whether I had been turnished, by order of the War Department, with ciching, uniforms, arms, equipments, &c., for such a force.

Only having received the letter concerning these inquiries at a late hour Saturday night, I urge forward my answer in time for the steamer saling to-day (Monday), thig haste preventing me frem entering as minutely as I could wish upon many points of detail, such as the paramount importance of the subject calls for. But in view of the near termination of the present session of Congress, and the widespread interest which must have been awakened by Mr. Wickliffs' resolution, I prefer sending even this imperfect answer to waiting the period necessary for the collection of fuller and more comprehensive data.

To the first quention, therefore, I reply that no regiment of fugitive slaves has been or is being organized in this department. There is, however, a fine regiment of persons whose late masters are "fugitive rebola"—men who svery where it before the appearance of the national dag, leaving their servants behind them to shift as best they can for themselves. So far, indeed, are the loyal persons compessing this regiment from seeking to avoid the pressure of their late owners that they are now one hardy and devoted seldlers. Trusting that this letter may form part of your answer to Mr. Wickliffe's resolu-tion, I have the houer to be, most respectfully, your very obedient servant. D. HUNTER, Major General Commanding.

The letter of General Hunter, in response to a resolu-tion of the House of Representatives, has disappointed many republicans, who hoped for a different statement, and a totally different tone. There are few republican who do not strongly disapprove of the employment of negroes as soldiers. This disapprobation will probably be expressed in a resolution that will be passed by the House, if it should be brought forward by some member very obnoxious to the majority.

The abolitionists have been highly elated to day by the advices from General Hunter that he is meeting with great success in drilling and disciplining negro recruits. It is claimed that Governor Sprague is a convert to the doctrine of freeing and arming slaves. FREMONT'S AIDS-DE-CAMP DISMISSED PPON THE SER-

COMMMERCE WITH THE FRENCH COLONIES.

Information has been received at the State Department, from the Consul of the United States at Martinique that under the present law all goods admitted into France are also admitted into the colonies. Importers can make choice of tariffs, either French or colonial. In other words, whenever the colonial tariff prescribes a higher duty than the French tariff, advantage can be taken of the latter. The products of the United States imported into Marti: ique in Anerican vessels, having a certificate of origin countersigned by the French Consul at the port, are admitted upon the some conditions as if taken there under the French flag, and do not have to pay the surtax of twelve francs.

Mr. Chark, (rep.) of N. H., said in his State the banks did pay a far for the privilege of circulation.

Mr. Shermax and if they were taxed by the State, they certainly were a fit subject for taxation by the general government. This frunchise was worth $0,000,000 to the banking interest in the country. But the principal object of the amendment was to drive out of circulation the local laming of paper money, which everywhere he regarded as a government right. There are now 1,396 banks under the most diverse systems, and the loss by counterfeiting and bad notes of various kinds amenda hearly to the same as the interest, which is $9,000,000. Such a system of banking was not wise, but only leads to confusion. The paper money issued by the United States was hearded up by the banks, and made the basis of the issue of a large amount of local paper money, so that the United States are obliged to take this focal paper or else issue more of its own paper, only to have the operation repeated.

Mr. YouLames, (rep.) of Vt., thought the Senator was misuleen in his financial policy. He did not believe our condition so desperate as to upturn the whole financial system of the country, savenified by long usage. Mr. Serran replied, contending at some length for the superiority of the United States paper currency, and the propriety of the passage of the proposed amendment.

Mr. Pessense thought this a very important matter, which he was not at present prepared to consider as it deserved, and he suggested the withdrawal of the amendment.

A special despatch to the Appeal is as follows:-

Vicksburg, June 27, 1862.

Porter's mortar fleet opened on the Lower batterie at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and coased at seven. They recommenced the bombardment at half-past five o'clock this morning. Our batteries replied with but few shot or lost. Two were killed and three wounded. This morning it is reported that the federals are landing troops at Wavrenton. We have no knowledge of the truth of this report, but it corres ponds with their previous movements. At one o'clock to-day twelve transports came up above the gunboats and landed troops at Brown and Johnson's place, on the Louislana shore. From the number of transports en gaged, they must have landed a large force.

The Avalanche of this morning has an editorial, cased upon information, that a new programme has been determined upon by the Confederate leaders, who, nothing abashed by previous disomfiture, are preparing themselves for a tremendous effort. They consider that the torritory recently given the has weakened the Nerth, and correspondingly strengthened the South. They expect to hold Richmond and Virginia; but if they are forced to yield them they have no idea of giving up, but will fight to the last; and when they can fight no longer, instead of surrendering and having their property confiscated, and themselves disfranchised, they will make a direct proposition to France and England to become a colony or appendage. If this alternative is forced upon them they will strive to become the subjects of Napoleon

The Arctionche gives the above as the almost certain policy of the Confederate leaders, and, as Dr. Foulkes is known to be one of the best informed men in the South considerable credit may be attached to this plan.

Despatches from Colonel Fitch, dated St. Charles, Arkansus, which works he stormed, set forth that General Curtis division is at Batesville, on short rations and without provender for horses and mules, besides suffering from sickness. RUMORS.

[From the Memphis Avalanche, June 27.]

We learn that the rumors of the capture of federal beeves, the Memphis and Charleston Railroad at Germantown and eight foderal wagons beyond domaintown, are groundless and unfounded. They turn out, like the great estale at Richmond, at which 45,000 men, with 80,000 stand of arms, were taken by the Confederates—annihilated at a single battle McClellan and his army. It is strange how such rumors get affect, and the rapidity of the circulation, and the credenog given to them.

Yesterday was lively enough for a very warm day. Early in the morning we had rumors in abundance, and to meet every imaginable state of mind. The sensationiats had it that a train had been captured on the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, and that a wagon train had been captured elsewhere; and for a time both reports were believed; but positive information was subsequently received, which proved the reports to be unfounded.

There was considerable activity in business circles yesterday. In fact, business matters seem to be gradu-COTTON BURNED AND COTTON BUYERS ARRESTED BY

[From the Memphis Avalanche, June 27.]
The people living on the line of the Charleston road are kept in terror by rocent raids in that vicinity. A highly respectable citizen, who lives about differen miles from town, and formerly one of our leading insertants, informs as that on Woonesday Jackson's cavalry made its appearance in force along the Memphis and Charleston Lairroad, and for the avower to bject of borning the cotton and punishing all who had failed to conduct them selves to their liking. The cavalry force under Jackson its appearance in force along the Memphis and Charleston and punishing all who had failed to conduct themselves, to their liking. The cavalry force under Jackson was large, and assumed to be bound for district No. 9, a district in which there was considerable cotton, none of which the confederates had had time to burn before the occupation of Memphis. This district is reached by the Macon road, and is said to contain about fitcam hundred bases of cotton. This, or at least the larger pertion of it, was destroyed by the confederates on Wednesday. Two parsons who were up there buying cotton were arrested and taken off as prisoness. Two other merchants of Memphis, who were also out there, were arrested and taken off as prisoness. Two other merchants of the middle of the country threatened to take as prisoners and to destroy all the property of all persons who, on any pretext, should come to the city of Memphis. They also stated that their intention is and will be to destroy the railroad and telegraph every time they are repaired, and to pretent the working of either. Our informant, who resides in that section, is fearful that their threats will be carried out, and if they should be, he asticipates the worst possible results to his property. Though a loour-fire out, and if they should be, he asticipates the worst possible results to his property. Though a loour-fire on those whose necessities require them to obtain the first of the continuous transfer on those whose necessities require them to obtain the first of the property of the continuous forces of the continuous forces
